Gain Valuable Insight: Get to know the person behind the resume. Their video narrative adds a layer of personal connection, helping you to understand their communication skills and personality.

Talent Onboarding: Enhance team building and bonding when new hires and teammates come to know each other faster by sharing video profiles.

How it Works

- Send shortlisted candidate names and emails to APW after informing candidates to expect an email from us.
- APW emails your candidates a link along with directions for setting up their video profiles on our platform.
- APW reviews each profile for completeness, answering candidates' questions as needed, and forwards the profile links to you.
- You can compare candidate profiles as they come in, as well as review them all at once for easy comparisons.
- Video profiles are live and accessible on our platform for 30 days.

Step into the future! Start using the kind of technology that brings a human element to your hiring process and differentiates you from other employers.

People are more than their resumes. Hire for culture fit, personality, presentation, and experience. It's the whole package you want, not just the skills on a resume.
